

Jamie Foyers

Strangely enough Jamie started his career in sport. He was intended to go in to the military as an officer but actually found the sport of three day eventing (horse jumping) a lot more attractive. He trained with some of the worlds leading riders and rode for the very best, before starting his own business in the early nineties. Jamie became well know in this sport globally and trained riders up to Olympic level.

However once all the goals had been accomplish Jamie looked for new challenges and joined the capital markets in the early part of 2000. He was employed as a portfolio manager and worked for E.Jones, a large established and well know American investment firm in London with over $268 Billion under management. Jamie clearly admits that this was where he learned his systematic view on investing drawing on over 130 years of experience within the firm. At the start of Jamie's employment he sat many grueling industry exams covering financial advice, including Securities & Investments Institute Level 3 – (securities) comprising of - Financial Regulations (FSA), Securities (FSA)

Jamie also holds his Chartered Insurance Institute Financial Planning Certificate – comprising of 3 Units – FPC1, FCP2 and FCP3. He is also licensed under the FSA in – Inheritance Tax mitigation, Trading/SIPP fund management, RACS and PPS as well as all asset classes including Capital Investment Bonds (CIB)

Jamie Joined Saxo Bank in 2006 and has been an integral part of the account manager team, looking after and servicing traders from all corners of the world. Being well versed over all asset classes, Jamie spends his days working along side the highly experienced strategy team here at Saxo Bank, scouring the markets for good ideas to offer to his clients and colleagues. Jamie, with his disciplined approach to trading, as been asked to speak at many venues world wide.
